E. LANGUAGES

Listed in this section are languages, dialects, and language families which are mentioned at least once in the references cited. The numbers refer to entries in Index A, Authors. In general the names are given in the forms used by the authors, with occasional variant spellings given in parentheses. To the extent that the names are similar, however, there has been an attempt to include references to the same language under the same entry; thus, for example, Iraqi includes also references to Iraqi Arabic.
